PHILOSOPHY

Developing successful, well-rounded men is the primary goal of the Linfield football program.

Built on decades of accomplishment, the established priorities of the program remain the same: Develop life skills first and athletic skills second.

You will be pushed to your utmost academically and athletically while being immersed in an environment of habitual excellence. Being a team player, developing a strong work ethic, controlling one's attitude and performing under pressure are some of the success skills emphasized at Linfield.

The program's expectations are high. The life skills you will learn while competing at Linfield reap rewards long after graduation.

Linfield seeks student-athletes who have a love of football, high character and the talent to play at the elite national level.
