INAUGURAL HYMN

By

W. EVERETT HENRY

Tune: "Materna"

O God, our Father, throned in light
Too great for mortal eyes,
Beyond our ken thy wisdom runs
To thrill us with surprise.
The mustard seed we plant in hope
And water with our tears
A shelter and a shade becomes
For men of after years.

We stand today where gently meet
Man's efforts and God's grace;
Where from the past and present fleet
Great hopes in love embrace;
Whence swells that song the years shall lift
From homeland and from far
Of life abundant, brotherhood,
And love that shuns no scar.

Our souls we lift to thee in praise
For those who planned so well;
For those whose rich and flowing lives
With theirs have joined to swell
The greatness which they here began;
For those who give today
Themselves to shape or to be shaped
Unto thy will for aye.

To thee, O God, who leadest men
More wisely than they mean,
And fill'st their dreams until they burst
With glory not foreseen,
We bring thy servant and thy cause;
Thy power in love bestow;
Let coming years thy plans unfold,
Thy grace in triumph show.
