Head coach Scott Brosius guided Linfield to a 133-49 win-loss record while leading the Wildcats to three Northwest Conference championships and two regional titles. In 2008, he led the Wildcats to a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Finals and also guided Linfield to third place at the 2010 NCAA championship tournament. He was selected as the NWC Coach of the Year in 2011, 2010 and 2008.

In addition to his coaching duties at Linfield, Brosius was chosen as manager of USA Baseball’s 18-under National Team for the summer and fall of 2011. His team will compete in the COPABE Pan American AAA/18U Championships in Cartagena, Colombia.

A former Wildcat who went on to a distinguished career in professional baseball, Brosius left Linfield following his junior year after being selected by Oakland in the 20th round of the 1987 amateur draft. He returned to Linfield in 2002 to complete a bachelor’s degree in business.

Brosius spent 11 years in the major leagues with Oakland and New York. He won three World Series titles with the Yankees in 1998, 1999 and 2000. He was a Golden Glove award winner, was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1998 World Series, and played in the 1998 All-Star Game.

In three seasons at Linfield, he hit .332 with 14 home runs and 77 runs batted in. During his junior season in 1987, he hit .348 and set Linfield single-season records for most at-bats, hits and RBI. He received recognition on the NAIA all-area, all-district and all-conference teams, and was an honorable mention NAIA All-American.

Brosius and his wife, Jennifer, live in McMinnville with their three children.

The Brosius family is active in the church, community youth sports, and the Willamette Valley Cancer Foundation, which raises money to aid families who are coping with the disease.
Program Philosophy

The Linfield baseball program strives for regional and national success while competing with class, integrity and honor.

The ideal prospective student-athlete brings the desire to achieve at the highest possible level coupled with a willingness to develop self-discipline in order to reach their full potential, both in the classroom and on the field.

Program Milestones

- 36 Conference Championships
- 20 Consecutive Winning Seasons
- 4 Regional Championships
- 2 National Championships (1966, 1971)
- 41 Linfield players signed pro contracts
- 2008 and 2010 NCAA Division III World Series

Facilities

Roy Helser Field, together with Jim Wright Stadium, is a jewel among Northwest small college baseball stadiums.

The crescent-shaped brick and concrete grandstand offers intimate, unobstructed views of the action on the field. It contains 860 aluminum-backed seats, with a fully enclosed press box, home team dressing room and covered storage areas.

The infield is covered with FieldTurf and drainage is excellent. The venue also includes covered, enclosed batting cages for year-round training.

Stadium lighting offers flexibility for scheduling practices and games and enhances opportunities for NCAA post-season competition.

Near the field, the Ad and Joan Rutschman Field House offers a warm, dry and spacious place to prepare for the season during the winter months.

2011 Highlights

- NCAA Division III Regional Finalist
- Northwest Conference Champion
- NCAA Division III leaders for batting average (Tim Wilson, .490) and ERA (Robert Vaughn, 0.82)
- 33-11 Season Record

So that we may help you pursue a great education and baseball experience, be sure to enter your information into the Prospective Athletes section.

Want to be part of the winning tradition of the Linfield baseball program?
Visit the Linfield Athletics Web Site!

www.linfield.edu/sports